This enjoyable walk leads to the beautiful feature that is Blue Pool. This natural pool can appear an amazing colour, and can be quite popular with swimmers. If Blue Pool is too crowded for your liking, there is an optional sidetrip which heads further up the creek to Glenbrook sandbar. The sandbar offers a sandy beach at a nice stretch of creek, also a pleasant spot for a dip.

0 | Blue Pool car park

(200 m 5 mins) From the car park, the walk heads away from the road, following the direction of the 'Blue Pool' sign down the bush track. The track winds down the hill and over a small footbridge, to an un-signposted intersection.

Continue straight: From the intersection, the walk heads down the hill, via many bush steps. The walk then continues, with the creek to the left of the track, to an un-signposted intersection (where another track continues along the base of the cliffs).

0.2 | Optional sidetrip to Blue Pool

(70 m 1 mins) Continue straight: From the intersection, the walk keeps the water to the left as the track meanders below the cliffs for a very short time, to the bank of Blue Pool. At the end of this side trip, retrace your steps back to the main walk then Turn right.

0.2 | Blue Pool

Blue Pool, Blue Mountains National Park, is named after the blue colour of the water. This appearance is caused by clay particles suspended in the water, which refract the light. This part of Glenbrook Creek is a popular swimming hole, but it is not patrolled.

0.2 | Int. Blue Pool and Glenbrook Gorge trks

(1 km 26 mins) Turn left : From the intersection, the walk heads down towards the creek, away from the cliffs. The track heads over the rocks and boulders, then crosses the creek and turns right, to keep Blue Pool on the right as the track winds above the bank. Winding and undulating near the bank of Blue Pool for some time, the track then passes a rock overhang and continues on to a large section of rock platforms. The track winds through this area, crossing the creek and continuing to the sharp right-hand bend in the creek's shoreline.

1.23 | Glenbrook Creek Sandbar

The sandbar is an unofficially-named beach on the banks of Glenbrook Creek. The beach has a fantastic white colour and some height above the water - a great spot for to camp or enjoy lunch.
