Hard track

↑ 92m

At Nerang Viewpoint, the ground drops away to the north, giving views across to the neighboring forested ridges. This is a short and quiet walk and feels 'off the beaten track'. Initially this walk follows a wide trail, but this soon changes to a foot track following a broad ridge north through scribbly gums and wild flowers. The track has some small uphill and downhill sections and is eroded in places.

0 | Nerang Av

(70 m 1 mins) From the intersection (at the northern end of Nerang Rd in Terrey Hills), this walk follows the management trail, passing a locked gate and 'Where can I ride in Ku-Ring-Gai Chase National Park' sign (on the right). The walk continues, keeping a creek on your right for about 70m, until just past the 'Nerang Track' sign (on the right and partly hidden) when the walk comes to a clear intersection with Nerang Track (on the right).

0.07 | Int of Perimeter & Nerang Trails

(1.1 km 23 mins) Turn right: From the intersection, this walk follows the sandy eroded track north, coming to a heath clearing after about 170m (ignoring side tracks after about 60m). This walk follows the trail into the bush, keeping the high ground to the left for about 900m until coming to flat rocks and the Nerang View Point.

1.2 | Nerang Lookout

Upon arriving at Nerang Lookout of Terrey Hills, the ground drops away to the north, offering filtered views through Banksia trees. Nerang Lookout is an unfenced sandstone platform, with large boulders scattered about. These large boulders create small attractive chasms. Nerang Lookout is a relaxed and pleasant spot to appreciate a typical bush setting within Ku-Ring-Gai National Park.
